

HISTORIC MARKET BEING RAZED FOR NEW COOPER UNION

Demolition Begun of Structure
That Provided Armories
for Two Regiments.

FOR $600,000 SCHOOL.

Equipment to Provide Complete Plant for Scientific Education.

Cooper Union, which for years has been in the same uncomfortable position as a full-grown man forced to wear a boy's clothes, is in a fair way to secure quarters more in proportion to the needs of the great number of students enrolled there. The old three-story Tompkins Market, facing Cooper Square and occupying the block bounded by Sixth and Seventh streets and Third Avenue and Hall place, is being torn down and upon its site a new building for the Union is to be erected.

The contract allows four months for the destruction of the market building, at the end of which time, or sooner, if possible, work will begin on the new structure. The plans call for a five-story edifice, but it will go up only as the cash is ready to pay for it.

At present $120,000 is available, and it is proposed to erect with this the basement and first story, and roof them over. The total cost of the new building, as planned, will be about $600,000, with an additional $200,000 for equipment.

For Many Years an Armory.
The present Tompkins Market building was originally erected to provide for the Seventh Regiment, which occupied it until 1880. It was then turned over to the Sixth Regiment, which occupied the second and third stories. Upon the removal of the latter regiment to its new armory, at Lexington Avenue and Twenty-seventh street, the trustees of Cooper Union obtained a lease of the market premises for ninety-nine years at a nominal rental of $100 a year.

At that time the trustees intended to expend $50,000 upon the old structure and use it as an annex to the Union's present quarters, but defects developed which made it practically impossible to meet the requirements of the new building law, and it was found impossible to make the place serviceable for the outlay contemplated.

The plans now filed with the Stinking Fund Commission of the city explain the future of the Union so far to make use of the premises and call for the erection of a structure that will house steam, hydraulic and electric laboratories and machinery testing rooms, as well as assembly rooms for classes. It is planned to use the new building exclusively for the department of science, reserving the present building for the courses in art.

Whole Union Crowded.
Prof. C. R. Richards, director of Cooper Union, said to-day:

"The institution is certainly justified in asking for more space. Its students are all but hanging out the windows. In the evening there is not a nook or cranny of the Union that is not crowded to its extreme capacity. In the fifty years since its inception there have been enrolled nearly 150,000 students, and applications rejected for lack of facilities have equalled twice that number."

"For the present year there were 1,450 applications for the freshman class, and only 250 could be admitted. The total applications this year were nearly 8,000, and the total enrollment 3,800, the largest number ever admitted and representing the utmost capacity of the Union."

Cooper Union is looked upon by its students and their families as the college of the east side. The money for the new edifice is expected to come from gifts and bequests.

Gives $50,000 to Cornell.
ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 26.—A gift of $50,000 to Cornell University by Mrs. Florence O. R. Lang of Montclair, N. J., has been announced by President Schurman. Mrs. Lang's gift will be used for a new building to house the school used in connection with the Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering. "Mrs. Lang erects the new building," Dr. Schurman said, "in memory of her father, Jasper Raymond Rand; her uncle, Addison Crittenden Rand, who founded the Rand Drill Company, and her brother, Jasper Raymond Rand."

Interesting Reading for Tubercular Invalids

The makers of Eckman's Alternative medicine are at this time curing tubercular invalids all over the country. They will send direct a pamphlet and other literature that every consumptive should read. It tells in their own language the story of those whom Eckman's Alternative has cured.

Such straight-from-the-heart evidence as this could hardly be convincing. No matter if you have unfortunately spent time and money experimenting with nearly every "cure" under the firmament—investigate Eckman's Alternative. If shown the heart-touching affidavit of a father whose only son was cured of tuberculosis by Eckman's Alternative after all hope had been abandoned, would it not carry some weight with you? A specimen:

"I am, Sir, J. M. GERRARD, of Philadelphia, Pa. 'Gentlemen—In July, 1905, I first used the conditions that showed I had a hollow cough, hemorrhages and very severe night sweats. My brother recommended Eckman's Alternative. In the Fall of 1905 I began to take it. At this time I am perfectly well and robust. My appetite is good and my weight has increased from 110 to 140 pounds. Not a trace of my trouble remains. I will gladly express the merits of this medicine to any one."

Clearance At Its Height

The second week of our great dispersal of home outfittings finds in progress the most tremendous selling movement that even The Big Store—with all its record as a vast outlet for desirable merchandise—has ever known.

Extensive as the distribution is, however, it is fair to state—for the benefit of those who have not yet availed themselves of it—that

Assortments Are Still Unbroken

Anyone who will think a moment will understand that a good deal more than ten days' selling—even extraordinary selling—is required to "break" lines of carefully-selected staple goods running into many hundreds of thousands of dollars in value.

As a matter of fact, There's Just as Good "Picking" NOW as on the First Day of the Big Sale

You know the reason for the event, of course—the fact that in the soon-coming consolidation between the Siegel Cooper Co. and Greenhut & Co. the twelve great departments enumerated in the upper corners of this announcement are NOT TO BE CONTINUED in this store, but (under the consolidation) are ultimately to be found EXCLUSIVELY in the Greenhut Building. It was a case of MOVE OR SELL, therefore; and, "instead of MOVING, we SELL!"
